

Don't Learn About Recalls From Your Child

Workshop materials for trainers, childcare providers and parents

Kids In Danger (KID) is pleased to offer a workshop package to educate individuals about the dangers of unsafe children's products.

Don't Learn About Recalls From Your Child is an engaging one to two hour workshop presentation that:

- Educates participants about dangerous children's products;
- Informs participants about actions they can take to protect children from injury and death in juvenile products; and
- Provides participants with tools and support to create a secure environment for children.

The goal of the workshop is to protect children by preventing unintentional injury and death in children's products. Through an informative lecture, educational video, and hands-on demonstration of how to check for recalled children's products, Don't Learn About Recalls From Your Child is a flexible, interactive presentation that provides lifesaving safety information to participants.

Here's what participants have said about Don't Learn About Recalls From Your Child:

"Very informative. Materials were helpful."

Diana, Diana's Home Care

"I was not aware so many products have been recalled. (The workshop) made me more aware of the dangers out there."

Tammi

"The video was very enlightening. It was an eye opener and made me more aware of hidden dangers."

Angela, Precious Little One's Day Care

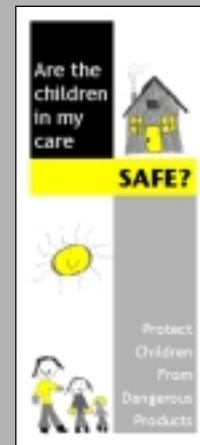

"I know that when I buy my equipment it may not be as safe as I thought."

Betty

Available in English and Spanish, Don't Learn About Recalls From Your Child is an excellent educational presentation that helps to protect our most vulnerable population: children.
