

Creating Safe Environments for Children

A workshop by Kids In Danger

Creating Safe Environments for Children is designed to educate parents, childcare providers and practitioners about unsafe children's products and give them guidance and tools that can keep children safe.

During this workshop participants will receive information that will:

- ✓ Outline the problem of unsafe children's products
- ✓ Instruct how to check for product recalls
- ✓ Offer tools and information to stay informed and updated
- ✓ Educate them about the children's product safety system

This workshop is ideal for pediatricians, childcare or healthcare providers, safety professionals, grandparents and parents.

Attend or host a workshop for your community

Schedule a workshop with a KID representative who will tailor the content of the workshop to fit your audience's needs.

Or, host your own safety workshop for your organization, co-workers or friends. KID will supply a workshop package with everything you need to effectively educate your community about protecting children from unsafe products.

To schedule a workshop or to learn more,

Here's what previous participants have shared with us:

I appreciated all of the wonderful information provided. It will make me more diligent about checking out all recall information in the future

I have an infant at home and I will definitely register and will pass this resourceful information to my loved ones

Amazing information and so proud of a mom who can take such a tragedy and help others prevent other children and families from suffering. Thank you!
